DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of group I in Paper No. 04052004 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that there is no serious burden on the Office to search the separate and distinct inventions. This is not found persuasive because the chemical compound containing toner particles is not in the same search field as a borosilicate cylinder containing a UV light source and presents a serious burden to search because of their totally different technologies.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. Claims 22-27 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper No. 04052004.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Lawson (4,380,794). Lawson teaches a borosilicate cylinder comprising a UV light source therein (col. 2 lines 1-15).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 20-21 and 32-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morrison (4,088,552) and Stolk (6,194,127) in view of De Meutter (5,888,689). Morrison (col. 2 lines 20-34) and Stolk (col. 5 lines 27-38) each teach UV light sources separated from the work piece by borosilicate. De Meutter teaches the UV cure of toner (col. 7, 9, and 11-12). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to cure toner compositions with a UV light source surrounded by borosilicate because of the direct teachings of the prior art to the performance of UV cured toners and light sources and the expectation of similar results due to obvious design choices and toner compositions.

7. Claims 20-21 and 32-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over De Meutter (5,888,689) in view of Lawson (4,380,794). De Meutter and Lawson are described above. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to cure toner compositions with a UV light source surrounded by borosilicate because of the direct teachings of the prior art to the performance of UV cured toners and light sources and the expectation of similar results due to obvious design choices and toner compositions.
